Commencement Notes

The history of academic dress reaches far back to the early days of the oldest European universities. In England, in the second half of the 14th century, the statutes of some colleges forbade “excess in apparel” and prescribed the wearing of a long gown. Gowns may have been necessary for warmth in the unheated buildings frequented by medieval scholars. Hoods may also have served to cover the tonsured (i.e., shaved) head until they were superseded by scull caps, which were later replaced by headdresses more like those recognized today as “academic.”

Today, academic garb has symbolic rather than practical application. Some universities have their own cap and gown designs, while most defer to traditional black. The size of the academic hood denotes the progression of academic degrees: bachelor's, master's, doctorate.

The color of the hood denotes the field of academic study. The color of the inner lining of the hood reflects the colors of the institution from which one's degree was earned.

*Denotes Summer 2026 Graduate

Appearance of a name in the Undergraduate Diploma Ceremony Program is presumptive evidence of graduation but is not regarded as conclusive. The official Emerson College transcript, sealed and signed by the Registrar, is conclusive testimony of a student's academic record and possession of degree(s) awarded by Emerson College.
